

Mason Homes Ltd. presented with award for building energy efficient homes

With energy costs rising, buyers of Mason Homes houses are more pleased than ever with themselves. On Jan. 6, Mason Homes Ltd. was awarded with the Energy Star Industry Leader award by EnerQuality Corporation for being the first builder in the greater Toronto area to build all of its homes to the Energy Star standard. Energy Star houses are 40% more energy efficient than those built to Ontario's building code and can save owners up to $1,000 on annual utility bills. "Energy Star was launched this year with the hopes of transforming the new housing market in Ontario, and with industry leaders like Mason Homes on side, I believe it will succeed," says Lenard Hart, director of business development for EnerQuality.

© National Post 2006

Published: Thursday, January 12, 2006