Featuring a stunning collection of townhomes, bungalows and two-storey homes on 32-, 35- and 40-ft. lots, Chicory Walk's homes resonated with first-time homebuyers, established families and empty-nesters alike. With only 60 homes available in this exclusive community and prices starting from the $160's to $299,000 demand was strong.

St. Catharines' mayor Bryan McCallum and Transportation Minister Jim Bradley were also on hand to congratulate Mason Homes on the successful launch of their environmentally friendly Green for Life homes. As a recognized leader in Green building, Mason Homes builds ENERGY STAR-qualified homes as a standard – not an upgrade – acting on a belief that a happier, healthier home should be available to everyone. Chicory Walk is the first Mason community to offer these benefits to families – by offering a more environmentally friendly and energy-efficient home that helps provide a healthier environment and energy.

Located in the heart of downtown St. Catharines, Chicory Walk has been designed with the utmost care to offer residents family-friendly streets and beautiful architecturally controlled streetscapes. With striking Colonial, Arts-and-Crafts and Victorian styles to choose from, homeowners can further customize their new home with an incredible choice of dazzling interior finishes and exquisite exterior packages to enhance their home.

Chicory Walk is just minutes from the QEW, with parks, schools, shops and restaurants just a short walk away.
